Software as a Service

Orion Software now offers Software as a Service (SaaS)!

As the software market changes, the cloud-based delivery model is the way to the future. Simply use the internet to access SiriusPro from anywhere in the world - from any computer, iPad, or mobile device! Going with cloud technology is not only a good economic decision, the SaaS model also makes the best technologies available to you anytime, anywhere!

Eliminate any worries about back-up, technician availability, security protection and other risks. Orion Software's cloud technology allows rental managers to focus on their core business operations instead of managing IT.

Reduce complexity and get up and running faster while saving money!

Call us today to find out how SaaS can help you!
